

MOVE A MUSCLE TO REMOVE A MUSSEL!

How can you do your part to keep from contaminating other fresh bodies of water with Quagga Mussels?
Here are a couple of tips:

Drain the water from the bilge, livewell pump, and any other compartments that could hold water. Replace the bilge drain plug and disinfect the bilge by pouring in one gallon of household vinegar.

Clean the hull and remove any clinging material such as plants, animals, and mud from the boat, motor, equipment, and trailer.

Hot power wash the boat, motor, trailer, livewell, anchor rope, and anything else that came into contact with the water. Try to do it yourself at a car wash.

Dry boat and equipment.
