Welcome to White Tank Mountain Regional Park

The freestanding, deeply serrated, 4000-foot-high White Tank Mountains separate the Phoenix Basin of the Salt River Valley from the Hassayampa Plain. Floodwaters have scoured out a series of depressions, or "tanks," in the white granite rock, thus the name of the mountains.

Nature Center

The Nature Center, located in the new Regional Library, offers maps, trail information, annual passes, refreshments, animal displays, and souvenirs. First aid and a phone are available.

The Amphitheater is located behind the Nature Center; it is primarily used for educational programs presented by the Interpretive Ranger. For information on programs, visit our website.
